Strayed or Stolen.

FROM a lot attached to the Planter's Hotel, in Edgefield Village, on Saturday night the 16th inst. two HORSES, one a large Chestnut Sorrel, rising 16 hands high, about 6 years old, works well, and paces: is a little high backed, thin through the shoulders, and one of his hoofs swell'd; the other is a common sized Bay Mare, near 15 hands high, six or seven years old, high withers, light in the flank, paces a little: it is not known whether she will work or not, she has a small white speck in one of her eyes, and a saddle mark on her left side about four inches below the centre of her back, she is very spirited. Any person taking up said animals, if stray, and keeping them well, or putting them where they will be well kept, until I recover them, shall be reasonably rewarded, and if stolen, a reward of Fifty Dollars will be paid for the recovery of the Horses and detection of the Thief. Any information respecting them, directed to the subscriber at McMacken's P. O. Fairfield District will be thankfully received.

THE FIFTH VOLUME

OF THE

Hamburg Journal.

FOUR years have nearly elapsed since the Journal first made its appearance before the generous public: and although having met with a due portion of support, the Editor would at this time, invite the attention of his old friends, and those who may feel a desire of sustaining his efforts, and extend additional encouragement, to lend a helping hand towards the commencement of a new volume.

We make an earnest appeal to our friends in South Carolina, as well as those in other States, to assist us in the circulation of the Journal, and clear away the weeds that have grown around the Old Palmetto Tree. Now that we have preferred Henry Clay to Martin Van Buren, we can only expect a desperate effort to be made to crush us, and consign the HAMBURG JOURNAL to oblivion. Though we fear not those who would injure our interest, because the more we are trampled on, the braver we will thrive: still we wish to have the consolation of knowing that our course meets with response from the hearts of freemen. To conduct a Press in South Carolina in opposition to the established mandates of those who dictate, is like trading on the forbidden ground of some eastern mosque—no Christian dare pass it, unless barefooted. Yet we have dared to make a venture on this land, and forfeit out that which should be removed.

And now we leave our cause in the hands of our friends, and present our efforts to their consideration, to say, whether we must be disappointed or be supported with liberality and kindness.

The Journal is published once a week, at the very low price of two dollars per annum, in advance, and contains at least twelve columns of reading matter.

Will our brother editors, of either party, extend a friendly aid, by giving the above a few insertions? S. C. W. YARBOROUGH.

ECONOMY! ECONOMY!

THE SOUTHERN MEDICAL

POCKET BOOK.

THE Subscriber having anticipated the publication of his MEDICAL POCKET BOOK, prepared expressly for the Southern States, but, being disappointed in publishing it as a book, now proposes to issue the work in sheets, twice a month, until the whole work shall be completed. Each number will comprise 32 duodecim pages, on excellent paper, making, when completed, about 300 or 350 pages. This method has been adopted because it is the cheapest and safest mode by which the work can be delivered to subscribers.

The principles of Medicine, Disease, Practice, and theory, so far as relates to the Botanic remedies, are full and comprehensive. In fact, the Medical Pocket Book is so arranged as to render every man, or head of a family qualified to act as the family physician.

In urging the POCKET BOOK upon the public, he deems it only necessary to state, that (not as heretofore) the work will be free from Mysterious Technicalities—and, that all the light within the reach or comprehension of the writer, has been plainly set forth. Disease with the various treatments, preparations for, and application to, are rendered so easy, no one who reads can fail to comprehend. This course has been pursued in all the divisions of the work, particularly in Anatomy which is condensed from volumes of seven and eight hundred pages, down to a compass of, perhaps, between thirty and fifty pages—embracing the major, and most important functions, internal and external, of the human frame. It will be found to answer the purpose for which it is designed, and its adaptation to all classes, ages and sexes—and will prove to be a companion to all who may consult its pages either theoretical or practical.

The following is the order in which the several parts of the work will appear, and the different subjects that will be therein contained:

1. Preface, History and Theory of the Botanic Practice.
2. Practice of Medicine.
3. Botanical Materia Medica.
4. Compendious Anatomy.
5. Obstetrics, abridged.
6. Dispensatory.
7. Popular and valuable Recipes, between 100 and 200.
8. Surgery, abridged.
9. Comprehensive Glossary.
10. Index, arranged for each part separately.

The first firm of the work will be issued about the first of May. Those who wish to avail themselves of the work will forward their subscriptions, through their respective post offices.—Postmasters are authorized to forward letters containing money for a publication of this kind, free of postage.

The work, when completed, can be bound in any style to suit the taste of the purchaser. Terms.—For a single copy, $2 50. Five copies, $10. Ten copies, $17. Twenty copies, $30. The postage will be the same as on newspapers. Each number will be carefully folded in an envelope, and forwarded to each subscriber separately.

Address, free of postage,

F. S. BRONSON, LaGrange, Ga.

Those editors who receive this prospectus will confer a favor by publishing it in their columns for a few weeks. The numbers of the Pocket Book will be sent to all who publish as requested.

DR. CHAMPION'S

Vegetable Ague Medicine.

A Safe and certain cure for the Chills or Fever in all its complicated forms, also an effectual remedy for fevers of every description. This Medicine has been used by the proprietor a number of years in extensive practice during which time, he has treated some thousands of cases of fevers and from the success of this mode of practice, he is confident it will be the prevailing practice in fevers, and it never fails to perform a cure of Chills and Fever the first day.

Bilious, Typhus, Nervous, Congestive, Wind, and Yellow Fever, all yield to the use of this Medicine. It is cured by this system of practice in a shorter time and with much more certainty than by any other system of practice that has ever been recommended.

CERTIFICATES.

SHEPHERD, Fayette Co. Ala. Jan. 10, 1842. Dr. Champion:—Dear sir, I have been a great favorite of Dr. Sappington's Pills, and until last fall had not heard of your pills. Your agent has left some in this country, and I have used them in my practice to a considerable extent, and I can with pleasure say, that as far as my knowledge extends, they are much superior to any medicine I have used in cases of Fevers. I am so forcibly and from personal knowledge convinced of the salutary and all important effects of your pills, that I am extremely anxious to have you make an agent in this vicinity. There can be a large amount sold here for cash. Yours truly, H. P. LEONARD, M. D.

DALLAS Co., Ala., April 4, 1843.

Dr. Champion:—Dear sir,—Of the pills which I received from you, I have found sale for a considerable quantity. I think that it will be sickly here in consequence of the wet spring. Your pills give such general satisfaction here, that I am persuaded by my neighbors to write to you for a large supply of both kinds. It is now known that I keep them, and people will come 30 or 40 miles for them.
